EVENING EDITION.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA ::::::::: MAY 22.

☞ Green K. Dennis, of Coweta, is dead.

☞ Major Williams, of Savannah, will begin the survey of the Bainbridge, Cuthbert and Columbus Railroad the 1st June.

☞ The Cuthbert Appeal says that it is believed 90 per cent of the stand of cotton will die out in the warm dry days of June.

AIR-LINE RAILROAD.—We call attention in our State Correspondence to the very liberal proposition of our Gwinnet friend. He and his people are evidently in earnest on the subject of railroads, and if it depended upon THE CONSTITUTION, they should have one in short order. We urge the road to give them a favorable hearing, as they deserve.

Georgia News.

MEMPHIS BRANCH RAILROAD.—The incorporators held a meeting in this city on Tuesday last, opened books and appointed a committee to solicit subscriptions of stock. A subscription of fifty thousand dollars by the people of Rome and of this section will, we are informed, insure the building of the Road, as it will secure the endorsement of the bonds of the Company by the Georgia Railroad.

The meeting of the incorporators adjourned to Monday next, when they will elect a President and Board of Directors. Rome Courier.

NEVERTHELESS, it is important that the Adkins killing be investigated, and the law enforced. This much is due to the peace and dignity of the State; but when the truth is known, though it should fall upon the wife, who had just been entertained by the interview between her husband and one charging him with rascally propositions to his sister, the Tribune and its Southern pimps will continue to charge the Ku-Klux with the murder.—Albany News.

GRAND Master Samuel W. Lawrence will be the Orator at the Annual Masonic gathering in Rome, June 24th.

THE facetious editor of the Griffin Star gets off the following jests on serious affairs.

State Senator Adkins was recently assassinated near Dearing station on the Georgia Railroad. This is another of Bard's victims who have "perished by the wayside." It is supposed he was slain by "moderate Republican" Ku Klux.

The Judge gives the following reason why Foy killed himself: Foy saw that the Ku Klux were killing off the Radicals in alphabet order, commencing with Ashburn, Ayer, Adkins, and there was a long list of B's to go through with, such as Bard, Bryant, Blodgett, Bullock, and so on down to the F's, and Foy couldn't wait, so he took himself off.

GREEN CORN IN THOMISVILLE.—The caterpillar may indeed come, but it is during the months of July and August that it is to be dreaded, and we should rather consider its appearance now as a favorable indication, as the hot weather is well known to be destructive to the race. The cotton is suffering more now from the cool nights, which have also tempted the caterpillar forth from his hiding place, than from any thing else. We think the warm days which must now soon come will revive the stunted cotton and restore the confidence of the industrious farmer.—Thomasville Enterprise.

REV. J. H. CUTHBERT, Pastor of the First Baptist Church in Augusta, has accepted a call to the 13th Street Baptist Church in Washington City.

ALEXANDER ALEXANDER, of Augusta, merchant, has been the victim of negro depredation; has caught and convicted them.

GEN. ALBERT PIKE is in Augusta.

REV. J. S. LAMAR, of Augusta, will address the Kentucky University at Lexington, June 10th.

THE Germans of Augusta are going to organize an Immigration Society.

THE BISHOP'S PLAN OF VISITATION.—At the St. Louis meeting of the Bishops of the M. E. Church, South, Bishop Pierce was assigned to the First District, which embraces St. Louis Conference, at St. Louis, September 15; Indian Mission, Oakmulgee, September 29; Arkansas, Fayetteville, November 19; Little Rock, Magnolia, November 24.

Bishop Doggett will visit this (the Fifth) District as follows: Holston, Abingdon, September 22; Virginia, Richmond, November 10; North Carolina, Newbern, November 24; North Georgia, Rome, December 8; Forida, Lake City, December 22.

THE cities of Macon, Milledgeville and Augusta are about to call an early meeting to provide for completing the Macon and Augusta Railroad.

The above amusing mistake about our local's name we leave for a treatment of suitable ferociy, upon the return of the gentleman thus patronymically caricatured.

CROPS IN TROUP.—From reliable source we hear that the cotton is reviving under the influence of the recent warm weather. The cold snap has killed out a great many plants, but though the remaining ones look little and weak, there are enough left for a stand, and with reason we can hope for a crop. Oat crop, good so far. Wheat, tolerable. Corn, puny and a poor stand.—La Grange Reporter.

A BLOODY MURDER.—Samuel Hardeman, living in Oglethorpe county, Glade's District, was murdered about two weeks ago, about five miles from his house, between Grove's Creek and Cloud's Creek. He had just received about $1,500 in money, proceeds of sales of cotton, and had started to Danielsville, to pay a debt. No clue has been obtained to the perpetrators of the deed. He was shot in the body, and his throat cut from ear to ear.—Athens Banner.

THE Committee appointed to report to the Georgia Railroad Company, on the proposed Northeastern Railroad from Athens to Clayton recommend its survey, and that the Central Railroad be requested to aid the enterprise, and that the Georgia Railroad co-operate with all parties seeking to carry it out.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.—The loss sustained by this sterling Democratic daily in the death of the lamented Barrick, has been fully repaired by the accession to the chief editorial charge of Mr. I. W. Avery, formerly of Dalton. The local department is conducted by Mr. Whidby, of Stone Mountain. Under the new management, the high character of the paper is maintained, while the vigor and energy manifested by the newly organized editorial corps, give promise of a brilliant future for this favorite Atlanta journal.—Covington Enterprise.

Our State Correspondence.

Communicated.]

THE METHODIST ADVOCATE AND THE CONSTITUTION.

Mr. Editor: In your last Thursday's morning edition, I notice your reply to the "false witness against his neighbor" who writes editorially for the paper called The Methodist Advocate. Veritably this name is "lucus a non lucendo." It is called a Methodist Advocate because it is partially a political tool. Because its very nostrils are red-hot with rancor and rage against its opponents. Because charity that "hopeth all things"—love and loving kindness, and Christ's gentle teachings are all twaddle and waste of breath. Methodist Advocate it must be, because to its bloody maw, victims from the hard pressed people here are always welcome, and because new outrages and humiliations are the very cream and savor for which it lives and labors.

Your self-control and patience, Mr. Editor, I really envy, and think from my heart admirable. Indeed, you have succeeded in all (and I praise you for it) in answering a certain character with the full measure of dignity and right spirit, and so far as the argument goes, you will not only scotch but I opine will surely kill the snake.

Turn to the argument again, if you please, upon which you commented, and mark the peculiar phraseology so characteristic of all political literature that is Radical. First, the Editor of the Advocate says "we intimated at the time that he (Dr. Ayer) was murdered because of his Republicanism;" next, "this being so generally denied, and fearing (ha! ha!) that we might have done injustice to some, we doubtingly said that he might have been killed for his money." Who was it that so generally denied this political murder? Why, the press of Georgia—the people of the vicinage who knew—the judicial proceedings and records in the preliminary trial—the bodily arrest, imprisonment, and, would the world believe it, the identical property of Ayer found on the body of the prisoner, and his own confession of guilt—all, all this, and these furnished the denial. And yet this editor—this mouth-piece for Christ and his religion—this man who "runs" an Advocate and a Christian Advocate, says, of a matter as pregnant of trouble as this thing is, that on such testimony as this, he doubtingly said. In its last analysis all truthful and honest men know very well what an equivocal compliment the gentleman himself, pays to his own candor and veracity, when he admits that, out of politeness, he doubtingly said. Now, this Christian Advocate, (don't Satan wish there were more of them,) we suppose, is forced to admit that all this charitable, suppositious tenderness, for his dear brethren of the South, was an idle waste of a good thing, and he takes it back. Ayer was murdered ye powers of darkness! for his "political and moral principles." From what we have seen of his political principles and heard of his moral ones, it would have been a base degradation of the murdering "principle" to have hurt Ayre for them. But mark the stealthy, cat-like movement of the sentence: "Since then, we have come into possession of what we suppose to be facts," etc. Has this not now got the marks of the beast all over it? How like Greeley's hireling slanderers, some of whom lie about here stranded even to this day, is all this doubting, tentative, cowardly stepping on a shaky falsehood. "We suppose" it is just at that instant, but wait one, only one second longer and you will see. The second is passed, and with it comes the transparent mendacity interposed between the truth, and as he now emerges into the full light of conviction, and blatantly proclaims to all the North and his "twenty-eight hundred subscribers" besides, that these facts "leave no room for doubt in our mind that he (Ayer) was murdered for his political and moral principles, that the murder was premeditated, that he was the victim of a deliberate and deeply laid plot." There we have it at last—the animus of a suborner and the charity of the devil. The testimony, (and an Advocate ought to know how much better testimony is than facts) is that there was not, and could not be, by any possibility, from Ayers sudden reappearance in his old neighborhood any premeditation in the case. He was scouted from the doors of two negro families and while seeking some resting place for his poor old, heavy, dishonored head, he was murdered by the way by a negro who surrendered Ayer's purse and confessed the deed. Here we may not grope our way "doubtingly," for we arrive at our facts by the perfection of testimony, the self-acusing confessions of the criminal, and that criminal a negro. But why talk—why refute—why plead! These wicked men going through our country as agents of evil, must promote strife, or their mission and their power are gone. They cannot live in the memories of the just and good, and they have, with "premeditation," resolved to keep themselves fresh in the recollection of the millions they have pillaged and tortured, and outraged in every conceivable form of malice. H.

AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

Editor Constitution: Permit me through the columns of your paper to call the attention of the President and Directors of the New York and New Orleans Air-Line Railroad to this fact:

The county of Gwinnett is ready to subscribe and pay into the Treasury of said Company the sum of Fifty Thousand Dollars, together with free right of way through the county, and the citizens will also take stock to double that amount, on condition the Road traverses the whole length of the county, passing through and locating a depot at the town of Lawrenceville.

This proposition is made in good faith; we are able and willing to make it good, knowing the charter requires you to touch the county of Hall, and it has already a subscription of considerable amount to turn the Road out of its proper course and carry it by the town of Gainsville. We do not propose to direct the officers of the Road in its location, and have full confidence in their ability and judgement in the matter. PARKS, OF GWINNETT.

Lawrenceville, Ga., May 21, 1869.

MADRID, May 22.—The Cortes voted for monarchy after long debate, by 217 to 70.

SHARP.—A Radical correspondent is responsible for the following:

H. M. Turner exerted himself to procure all the signatures he could for Swayze for Postmaster at Macon. Swayze says that after Turner arrived in Washington, he, Turner, erased the name of Swayze and substituted that of H. M. Turner. This is a pretty kettle of fish. Swayze promised the Assistant Postmastership to Turner or Edgerly if he was appointed. Now Turner wants Swayze and Edgerly to take back seats—so Swayze says.

Turner is Postmaster at Macon.

☞ SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR, the component parts of which are purely vegetable, and as a medical agent its healthful effects have made it a general favorite. The effect of the medicine on the stomach, liver and kidneys is prompt and effectual. The patient soon feels as if he had taken a new lease of life, and is overjoyed to find the depressed feeling dissipated, the costive habit corrected, and new streams of health coursing through his frame.

For deranged liver, dyspepsia, diarrhœa, piles, etc., Simmons' Regulator certainly has no superior. It acts like a charm, without debilitating the system, and without any of the evil effects of mercury. Made only by J. H. ZEILIN & CO. Sold by all druggists. Price $1

"Mrs. Stanton, with her snowy curls, occupies the chair. Olive Logan, eminently in appearance in her dainty walking suit of drab, than in her lyceum blue velvet, occupies a seat near by. Next sits Lucy Stone, and, as we looked on this picture, this sweet-faced, womanly woman, dressed in black silk, with dainty lace ruffles at the throat and wrist, and then on that bloomer-arrayed picture of our childish imagination, we thought, ah, how these women have been misunderstood! Miss Phebe Couzzens, the girl-orator and law student, of St. Louis, is also seated upon the platform, and attracts considerable attention. Miss Lilly Peckham, of Milwaukee, in appearance realizing one's idea of a minister's wife, seems possessed of considerable executive ability.

EXTRAORDINARY OATS.—Mr. C. A. Peabody has left in our office a cluster of what he calls "another of his humbugs." It is a specimen of a new description of oats, the seed of which he procured from Vermont, and which is said to have been introduced into this country from Sweden—one grain having been found in a package of peas procured by the Agricultural Bureau. There are in this cluster fourteen or fifteen stalks, about five feet in height, and of stems enormously large, and all from a single grain! The heads have not yet made their appearance, the stalk being in the stage called "the boot." It is therefore reasonable to suppose that the stalks have as yet attained not much exceeding half their height! The color is remarkably good, and the growth evidently vigorous. Mr. Peabody has a field of ten acres sown broadcast, besides some patches in the drill and in the hills. He used 200 lbs. of Pacific Guano to the acre, and sowed about the 20th February. He counts on a yield of — bushels of seed oats per acre, if no disaster overtakes the crop. It is said that these oats have produced even much more per acre at the North. The blade is from half an inch to a full inch in breadth, and over a foot in length.—Columbus Enquirer, 19th.

MISCEGENATION AND POLITICS.—By the suicide of a Radical politician and correspondent at Atlanta, we get a glimpse of the true character of the material with which the Radical game of reconstruction is played, and we find the atmosphere from which come the views of the social condition of the South taken by the Radical press. Miscegenation is the least of the offenses that appear.—New York Herald.

☞ There is an excess of men in the United States; but this excess only exists in the more newly settled States. In Massachusetts, for example, in 1860 there was an access of women over men of about 40,000 in population of 1,200,000; whilst in California at the same time there were only 105,000 women to 270,000 men.

LARGEST CITY, COUNTY AND STATE CIRCULATION

Of any paper published at this point.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA::::::::MAY 23.

CORRESPONDENCE WANTED.—We invite correspondence from all parts of the State on practical matters—railroads, manufactures, inventions, crops, legal decisions, improvements, minerals, progress, etc. Be brief, condense down, and write on one side of the sheet. We wish to aid all the material interests of the country.

TO BUSINESS MEN.—This paper affords you unparalleled advantages for advertising. Its daily circulation is increasing rapidly. It goes to more readers than any other paper in the city or section. It is steadily increasing in influence and favor. Additional expense will be put upon it to improve and perfect it as the news-medium of the State. When a merchant pays for an advertisement, the more it goes to the more he is repaid for his expense.

Usury.

The telegraph tells us that the Memphis Convention have recommended the Southern States to repeal the usury statute.

This movement is based upon the fact that we need money, and must put no restrictions upon its coming to us; and that it is better to have money at high interest to develop the country, than not to have it at all.

There is an old-fashioned prejudice against it, that is very sturdy and stubborn. Hatred of usury has been a matter of religious faith with our people. Without exactly understanding how, it has been broadly regarded as a weapon of evil, and an institution of Satan. A holy horror has invested it, that is so remote as to be traditional. This view has been accepted so long as orthodox, that it has not even been necessary to show its reason.

But latterly public sentiment has very materially changed on the subject. Before the war, a few faint attempts were made to change the prevailing sentiment, but as everybody had money, and the innovation was sounded mostly by money lenders, who did it to extend their capacities for fleecing, the reform made no progress.

Since the war, the matter has been strongly mooted. Nobody has had any money, and everybody has wanted it at any price. The general need and the clog that the usury law put upon borrowing, have awakened the people and set them to deep rumination. The absolute pecuniary helplessness, connected with the immense benefits that even a little money could accomplish, have revolutionized opinion; and finally the ablest and best men are now found arrayed in strong antagonism to the old law, and in ardent advocacy of a repeal.

And the fact that a body, like this Convention, composed of good representative men from every State in the South, should, without opposition and unanimously, recommend the death of the usury law, is an evidence of what headway the innovation has made and is making. It sounds a dark knell to the old idea. It roots up one of the most tenacious of old notions. It shows the steady march of change and progress.

Legislate as you will, in these times, you cannot keep money from being a matter of barter and trade.

If there is less of it than the country needs, and more property than money, the two will change places, and property become the currency, and money the article of trade. Money is like every thing else, it is worth what it will bring. To say that a man can buy a horse, and then sell him for fifty per cent. profit right away, but that he shall not do the same with money, which is property, seems inconsistent. Money should seek its level like everything else.

If the road were opened, more money would come in to get the handsome premium that it is worth, and this very influx of capital would lower the interest by increasing the fund seeking borrowers.

As it is now, men who have money are afraid to loan it because, not only can the usury be stricken off, but the principal, and legal interest can be withheld until the tedious delays of the law shall force payment. The risk locks up the dollars.

Many practical arguments like these are used by the anti-usury champions for repealing the restriction upon the free use of money.

They will succeed however. Like the movement in regard to the separate property of wives, it may hang fire awhile, but the growing practicalism of the day will inevitably force the experiment to success.

Nashville Radicalism.

The Tennessee Republicans have just had a State Convention in Nashville, to nominate a candidate for Governor. They seem to be divided into two factions: the Senter and Stokes parties. The two can hardly be designated the Red and White Roses, as in old English times, when Lancaster and York contended for supremacy. If we are to call them according to their conduct in the Convention, we should designate them as the Black and Blacker Roses. We copy a specimen picture:

> Pearne, with his face as pale as that of a corpse essayed to speak, when a whoop for Butler was the consequence. The scene which followed, beggars description. During the deafening sounds which now arose from the turbulent and perverse crowd a dozen were often speaking at once. If they could not be heard by the Convention, they spoke to surrounding squads which had gathered near the stand. Men stood on chairs, benches, on the Secretary's table, and some actually upon the top of the Speaker's desk. The rostrum was jammed with men and a jumble of humanity surged in front of it.
>
> Pearne—Gentlemen of the Convention. [Shrieks for Butler and Pearne.]
>
> Hopkins—Mr. Chairman. [Uproarious and continued calls for Butler and Pearne, followed by continued thunders of applause.]
>
> Hopkins, essaying to speak. [Cries of sit down, order, Hopkins.]
>
> Butler—Let's adjourn.
>
> Hopkins—Mr. Chairman. [Cries of Pearne and Stokes.]
>
> Pearne—Now fellow-citizens. [Cries of Butler and Pearne.]
>
> Pearne—Now, if you will hear me for about five minutes. [Cries for Butler and Pearne.]
>
> Delegate for Stokes—I move that the Senter party now adjourn. [Hoots and derisive laughs.]
>
> Delegate—Maynard has been elected Secretary of this meeting.
>
> Judge Palmer here began and continued for a short time to sing a song amidst the general tumoil and cries for favored candidates.
>
> Captain Glassie endeavored to speak and was hooted down.
>
> A colored delegate said he would be heard, when another delegate retorted "Ya, ya, ya, ugh!"
>
> Captain Hathaway then said if they wanted to put N. B. Forrest in, that they should do it and go home. "I want you to understand, gentlemen," continued the militiaman, "that I've got a melt in my body big enough to wrap twice round my spine and tie in a knot with the ends lapping the calves of my legs, and G—d d—n me if I can be howled down by any living set of men."

There seemed to be two Chairmen contending for the government of the body. The disgraceful ribaldry and turmoil continued the entire day, increasing in vehemence and acrimony, until it ended in a fight between the leaders of the factions Col. Dave Nelson, of the Senter party, and Col. R. R. Butler, of the Stokes party. They were separated before any injury was done, but it broke up the Convention for the day.

Senter's friends claim that he was nominated by acclamation. Of course the Stokes party vociferously resisted the idea. The row was expected to resume operations the next day.

Even the Radical papers claimed to be disgusted, and one of them, "The Press," thus mournfully croaks and dolorously moralizes:

> A SUGAR PLUM FOR DEMOCRATS.—There was an unusually large number of Democrats in the galleries at the Convention on yesterday, and we are compelled by a regard for truth to acknowledge that they manifested every symptom of extravagant delight. They winked at each other. They chuckled. They nudged one another in the ribs. Their eyes sparkled with rapture. They giggled. They haw-hawed right out, like jocose fellows at a corn-shucking, where all is merriment and whisky toddy. Indeed, truth again forces us to say that the Democrats were the only persons in attendance who appeared to like the course that events were taking. They exulted in the disgraceful exhibition of disorder, discord and insubordination which to them seemed the sure omens of defeat of the Republican party in Tennessee. We assert, without fear of contradiction, that there is not an enemy of the Republican party in Nashville this morning who is not delighted at the dissension and uproar in the Republican State Convention of yesterday.

> Disorder and discord in our deliberative assemblies may be sugar plums and bonbons for Democrats, but will prove fatal to us if indulged in any further. We must have peace. The people demand it imperatively.

The Slander Mill Falsified.

> In Forney's Chronicle there appeared a dispatch stating that one Spillman, a P. E. of the Northern M. E. Church, came near losing his life in Waynesboro. This is news to the peaceful and quiet citizens of that village. It is a fabrication of the most villanous character. It is stated that the negroes, by great efforts, saved his life and guarded him to the depot. The "colored troops fit nobly." It is a waste of ink to contradict such outrageous slanders, for their denial never reaches those who have been deceived by them. All we can say is, "let us have peace."—Burke County, Correspondent of Journal and Messenger.

The above extract contradicts the statements in the dispatch we copied, the other day. We refer to our Reverend contemporary, the Methodtst Advocate to it. We refer the Washington Chronicle and "my other Daily" of Forney, the New York Tribune, the Chicago Republican and all others of that ilk, to it also, and suggest them to put it in their columns, as appertaining to the other side of the question.

Fair play, gentleman! Don't shut your ears to truth. Render unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's. These dispatches of Southern outrage upon Republicans for opinion sake, are false, slanderous, and unreliable.

☞ Effects of too much beer: "Say, fellers, le's go see that pictur' of Cossington Washin' the Delaware."

☞ It is rumored that Lawson Black, Register in Bankrupcy, is to be appointed to the Judgeship of the Rome Circuit. This is the new Circuit composed of the counties of Floyd, Chattooga, Walker, Polk, Paulding, etc.

☞ Alfred Snider, colored and a bootmaker, has been appointed Postmaster at Barnesville.

☞ To clean paint, use whiting and water, and rub a little.

GOSSIP ABOUT THE MACON POSTOFFICE—WHO APPLIED FOR THE PLACE, AND WHO BACKED THEM.—We heard yesterday from good Radical source, some details about the recent fight over the Macon Postoffice, that may be interesting to the public:

> Our informant talked with a Radical who was himself a candidate for the position, and had been in Washington some time working his own case. He says that there were four candidates for the place besides himself, viz: E. Bond, Swayze, Turner, and the present incumbent. The last was backed by Generals Croxton, Sibley, and perhaps other military men. Turner was Gove's man, and Swayze was Bullock's man. Who was Bond's man we do not know. The contest was thought at first to be narrowed down to Bond and Swayze, as Creswell declared, at first, he would not go back of Bullock's recommendation, and Bond was very powerfully pressed, though being on the spot to urge his claims in person. Creswell was evidently disposed to put Swayze in, but some other influences were brought to bear, and the matter somehow hung fire. The contest went on, and at last, as a compromise, Gove pressed Turner. It took, and the result is known. From what our informant could learn, there seemed to be no question on the part of his informant, but that the people of Macon are indebted to Gove for Turner's appointment. He (the defeated aspirant) declares, however, that he did not altogether despair of flanking Turner, and that if there was another deal it might yet be secured. If Turner was finally, the street gossips say Swayze is to be his deputy.—Journal and Messenger.

> The reader must imagine several articulated hammers at four different places under the pit floor, and so that they might strike on a string being pulled. The noise produced by these hammers simulated that of a stick. A few yards from these hammers, in the centre of the pit, were placed two instruments which imitated the clapping of hands. They were two large castanets covered with leather; a string pulled the shells together. The six cords met in a part of the theatre unknown to all except the machinist, and were fastened to to six strong wooden keys, like those of a piano. At certain passages of the piece the machinist places his finger on one or another of the keys and the applause was forthcoming.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The Revenue receipts to-day amount to six hundred and thirty-four thousand dollars.

The negro Douglass, who applied to Wolf for a place, is a brother of Clapp's. Douglass is now working in the Government printing office on a card from the Secretary of the Washington Typographical Union.

Captain George Brown, having safely delivered the Confederate Ram Stonewall to the Japanese, has arrived here. He reports the health of the Asiatic squadron good.

The President has appointed Adeline Livingston postmistress at Greenville, Ala. Fred Ball, at LaGrange.

It is estimated that the forthcoming debt statement will show a decrease of seven millions, with receipts from revenue of eighteen millions; from customs, fifteen millions.

Ex-Senator Jesse D. Bright is here.

It is stated that Salnave has purchased the Federal steam ram, Atlanta.

An abstract of all National Banks is as follows: No. 1,600; aggregate resources and liabilities $1,516,303,000, including loans and discounts, $659,000,000; specie, nearly $8,500,000; legal tender notes, $80,500,000; three per cent. certificates, $51,000,000; capital stock, over $420,000,000.

Mrs. Harriet Balch Macomb, wife of the General-in-Chief before Scott, died yesterdap, aged 76.

Commodore Charles Stewart McCauley is dead.

LONDON, May 22.—The Times in discussing the Alabama claims, says, England has equal cause of complaint against America. Great Britain has resisted the temptation to recognize the South, thereby inflicting sufferings on her own people in disobeying an ally, and in fact, declared in favor of the North, and is now misunderstood and accused of hostility and selfishness.

Sir Francis Head communicated several official documents to prove that assistance rendered by America to the Canadian revolt in 1837. He asserts that Sumner's speech applies equally to that and Alabama claims, but that England never claimed nor received indemnity.

MOBILE, May 22.—The Presbyterian Gulf Assembly, South, met on Thursday, the 20th inst. Rev. Dr. Robinson, of Kentucky, was elected Moderator; Rev. H. H. Poise, of Mississippi, temporary Clerk; Rev. Dr. Waddel, of Mississippi, preached the opening sermon. There are over one hundred Commissioners in attendance from Southern States.

Louisville, Ky., was chosen for holding the next meeting.

Reports show two hundred and fifty students in course of preparation for the ministry, and about twenty as foreign missionaries; a prosperous publishing house, and vigorous efforts to sustain feeble churches. A committee was appointed to mature plans for the better instruction of the blacks, of which Rev. Dr. Giradiau, of South Carolina, is chairman.

AUGUSTA, May 22.—Edwin Belcher, colored, Assessor of the Third District, publishes a card in this morning's Chronicle and Sentinel, in reference to his letter published in the Washington Chronicle and New York Tribune, detailing the murder of Stone, one of the expelled members of the Legislature, and the negro man who was with Adkins when he was killed. Belcher says that he was misinformed, and, he believes, willfully imposed upon by certain persons here, as he now learns, upon good authority, that Stone and the other person mentioned are living.

Belcher states that the letter was private to Charles Sumner, and regrets its publication.

Special dispatches from Atlanta to Republicans North announced the murder of these two men by the Ku Klux, but there is no foundation for the report, the outrages being worked up to serve the ends of certain parties in the State, who are fearful of being deprived of their offices under the State government.

FORTRESS MONROE, May 22.—A northeast storm set in this afternoon.

NEW YORK, May 22.—In the Old School Assembly a motion was made fixing Tuesday for discussing re-union, gentlemen from the Potomac Synod saying they were not yet ready to consider the subject.

The Rev. Mr. Johnson spoke in favor of the resolution.

Taylor, of Georgetown, opposed it.

The motion to table the whole subject was rejected, and the matter was referred to a special committee of three Ministers and three Elders, to be appointed by the Moderator.

Other business confined to the usual routine.

HOW TO UTILIZE THE OAK FORESTS
—OF THE—
SOUTHERN STATES.

THE Undersigned is now ready to grant Lisences or to sell Factory or Territorial rights for the use of his Improved Appliances for the Manufacture of imperishable Concentrated Extract from Oak Bark, for Tanning and Coloring purposes, requiring them for either a small royalty or a reasonable consideration for excelsior rights.

A Factory complete in all its appointments, capable of manufacturing 50 barrels of Extract every 24 hours—will cost Eight Thousand Dollars, not including cost of motive power, which may be of Steam or Water, and of 25 Horse Power.

A Factory of half the capacity, or 25 bbls per 24 hours, will cost Five Thousand Dollars. While a Factory capable of producing from 12 to 15 bbls per day—will cost, not to exceed Three Thousand Dollars.

The above estimates include cost of Building Tanks—which are of wood—Mill, Condensing Appliances, and every requisite save motive power, which may be of Water or Steam, and of from 15 to 30 horse power as per capacity of Factory.

These new devices for Manufacturing Concentrated Extract are in practical use, and have the endorsement of the best judges as being the most perfect, simple and cheapest in use.

Competent men will be provided for putting these Factories in opperation for those to whom lisences may be granted. All particulars may be learned by addressing,

DR.
SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR OR
Medicine for Dyspepsia, Head ache Jaundice, Costiveness, Camp Dysentery, Sick Headache, Chronic Diarrhoea, Affections of the Bladder and Kidneys, Fever, Nervousness, Chills, Diseases of the Skin, Impurity of the Blood, Melancholy or Depression of Spirits

Most of the ailments here enumerated have their origin in a diseased liver, which is the most prevalent affection in this country, and as in many cases the patient is not within the reach of a physician, it requires that some remedy should be provided that would not in the least impair the constitution, and yet be active and safe. That such is the character of the SIMMONS REGULATOR there can be no doubt, which the testimony of hundreds will establish.

SYMPTOMS OF A DISEASED LIVER.
Pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade is mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternating with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred when few of them existed, yet examination of the body after death has shown the Liver to have been extensively deranged.

It should be used by all persons, old and young, whenever any of the foregoing symptoms appear. It is a purely vegetable compound, is not injurious to the most delicate constitutions, and will keep the liver in healthy action if used properly.

Persons living in unhealthy localities may avoid all bilious attacks by taking a dose occasionally to keep the liver in healthy action.

Regulator
For children complaining of colic, headache, or sick stomach a teaspoonful or more will give relief. Children, as well as adults, eat sometimes too much supper or eat something which does not digest well, producing sour stomach, heart-burn, or restlessness; a good dose will give relief. This applies to persons of all ages.

Many persons, from eating too much, are restless at night, or in day time fidgety, wool-gathering, can't understand what they read, can't keep their thoughts on any one subject so as to reason well, or become fretful. One or two tablespoonful will give relief.

Pregnant ladies will find sure relief from their headache, costiveness, swimming in the head, colic, sour stomach, restlessness, etc., etc.

Council adjourned.

Mr. Editor: As neither yourself nor your local attended the Masonic Picnic, at Kirkwood, on Thursday last, I desire to tell you something about the affair and the good time we had.

Our Conductor was Gen. G. T. Anderson, Agent of the Georgia Railroad, or, as he is more generally known, "Tige," who, by the way, is W∴ M∴ of Atlanta Lodge No. 59.

Each and every one seemed to vie with his neighbors to see who could contribute most to the enjoyment of all, and yet have the most fun himself. It was really an exemplification of "that noble ambition, or rather emulation, of who can (not best work) best play and best agree."

There was a large platform on which quite a number "tripped the light fantastic toe," keeping time to excellent music discoursed by Prof. Billy Clarke's band.

Then there were some swinging, others pitching quoits, and, indeed the whole crowd were busy having fun. Ah! Mr. Editor, 'twould have done you good—indeed, it would have made your old heart feel young again, had you seen that crowd of men, women and children enjoying themselves in such a hilarious manner. Thus till 11 o'clock, when Bro. Lawrence was called to speak. He expressed much gratitude that he was permitted to attend the first Masonic Picnic ever had in Georgia. He gave good advice to the brethren, praised the sisters and children, and called down heavenly benedictions on all.

Bro. David Mayer, being called for, made a few facetious remarks with quite a happy effect, after which "dinner was the order of the day." O, I tell you sir, it was folly. When dinner was over, everybody had been fed; there wasn't a hungry individual in all that country.

Soon Col. W. W. Boyd, P∴ D∴ G∴ M∴, of Georgia, was called up and made a few remarks, when he rather seemed to be breaking down, and asked of several standing around, what to say. Brother Mayer told him to "say something to the sisters," which he did in style.

Next Gen. "Tige" Anderson, as W∴ M∴, of Atlanta Lodge, was called and failed to respond; whereupon Brother A. C. Ladd, was called, as S∴ W∴, to speak instead. He came forward, and said that he had been taught by his mother that "when gentlemen are speaking, "lads" should be silent.

Gen. Gordon was likewise called upon and made a brief speech in his usually happy style.

And we played base, danced and shot at a mark with an air gun, (not explosive, Mr. Editor,) and enjoyed ourselves in various other ways, till about 7 o'clock, when we all got "aboard" and soon sailed into the "Gate-City," regretting only that such a day should end so soon, and wishing for many happy returns. So mote it be.

SENATOR SHERMAN'S VIEWS OF FEMALE SUFFRAGE.—The following letter from Senator Sherman, declining an invitation to participate at the convention of the American Equal Rights Association, we find in the Republican:

WASHINGTON, April 23, 1869.

DEAR MADAM: I shall not be able to attend your Convention, as I wish as soon as possible to get out of this atmosphere of politics into the pure air of the country. From Congress into a Convention is from the frying-pan into the fire. I have always favored the most liberal laws for "Woman's Rights" so far as the property, employments, liberty, and social position are concerned. In these respects they ought to stand on the same footing as men; but I have seen no reason to convince me that they would be better off, or that society would be improved by their having the right to vote. At all events, until a majority of the "women" concur in demanding it, the "men" may properly stand aloof on this question. Your missionary work is among your own sex; and I am willing to encourage and support the political discussion of the question, with full faith that if the women of the United States demand the suffrage as necessary for their protection, they will get it.

They now make the fashions and customs which ostracise so many of their own sex from healthy and useful employments; they promote extravagance in dress, and make marriage a dangerous experiment for young men without means. All these any many other abuses you are trying to correct, and I sympathize with you, and if suffrage would aid you in this, I would grant it. My fear is that the right to vote will tend to disturb the harmony of society, make discord in the family circle, and thus cause much greater evil than good.

Very truly yours, JOHN SHERMAN.

De Colored Bredren.

NEGRO PRAYER MEETING IN GEOEGIA.

"Russel," of the Boston Traveler, describes a negro prayer meeting in the neighborhood of Jacksonville, Florida. He says:

At one place we saw a company of well dressed darkeys gathered around a large fire, which they had built of pine logs, and we were surprised to learn that it was a prayer meeting. We halted awhile to listen to their prayers and exhortations, and we must say that many contained more sense, earnestness and spirit, than exhortation in meetings we have attended among the whites. One old grey-headed darkey, in his exhortation, spoke nearly as follows: "Bredren, de goodness of de Lord am spoken about in the Bible, an' when I read him de Lord he spokens to me in dis wise: "I hab commanded Faro to let my people go, an' I hab led you out of de Egyptian bondage, an' now what? Why, my brederen, we are complainin.' We say de Lord hain't done nuff for us. We say we want land, we want larnin', but we don't show no earnestness. We many of us won't work wid all our might and git dese tings, but complain. Now, brederen, we's got ter wander in de wilderness forty yeahs an' be most starved and suffer, afore our children will be purified nuff to go up an' posess de land." "Amen," "Amen," "Glory," came from the whole company, after which a sister spoke, and "Old hundred" was sung. Just before we drove away, an old gentleman got up and said "as how he knowed a Yankee face," that there was "a friend a listenin to de meetin'," (referring to us) and hoped we would bear a "clean record of dar doings to de white brederen of de Norf." At the close of this speech, the whole company, which stared at us and showed considerable excitement, began a hymn or song to the tune of "Glory Hallelujah," which they sang with such a vigor that the dark pine woods echoed back the song from every direction, and we began to fear that some of them would go wild in theis efforts to sing louder, and the frantic demonstrations they made to show their approval of the sentiment. It almost shocked us, such a sudden transition was it from sacred to temporal things. As near as we can remember, three of the most striking verses ran in this wise, and our memory has been prompted by our friend, to whom we have shown this copy:

De Yankees am a comin' and de cullud folks is free,
De Yankees am a comin' and de cullud folks is free,
De Yankees am a comin' and de cullud folks is free,
De Lord am comin' down.

De spirit ob de Lord bress de white folks, too,
When de day of judgment comes.

We'll meet Gen'l Butler at de big jubilee,
We'll meet Gen'l Butler at de big jubilee,
We'll meet Gen'l Butler at de big jubilee,
When he an' we get dar.

The reference to Gen. Butler evidently displeased our companion, who muttered something about New Orleans and drove rather bustily away. Soon after, we were safely closeted at our hotel, feeling that if the views of the fort had not repaid our visit, the ideas gained at the "meeting" had.

L. H. BRADFIELD'S COLUMN.

DR. J. BRADFIELD'S

FEMALE REGULATOR,

Woman's Best Friend

THIS valuable Medicine is prepared for WOMEN exclusively, and to be used by WOMEN only. It is adapted especially to those cases where the WOMB is disordered, and will cure any irregularity in the "menses," except in such cases as require a surgical operation. As these last are very rare, the FEMALE REGULATOR is of almost universal application. In a sudden check of the "monthly courses" from COLD, trouble of mind or like cause, it acts like a charm, by RESTORING THE DISCHARGE IN EVERY INSTANCE, thus relieving the fever, headache, pain in the small of the back and "lower stomach," flushes of heat about the face, chilly sensations, burning of the eyelids and general restlessness. Taken in time, all these symptoms pass away immediately, without injury to the constitution. Frequently, however, the proper remedy is not applied in time, the disease becomes chronic, and the foundation laid for numberless evils to the constitution of the woman. The next "turn" comes around and there is no "show," or perhaps the "whites" will appear. There will be some uneasiness about the womb, but very little or none of the natural fluid escaping. The complexion becomes sallow, bowels swollen, a sort of greenish caste about the face, constant dull aching pains in the head, weight in the lower stomach and back, with or without whites, palpitations of the heart, pallor, exhaustion, indigestion, weariness, langour, aching across the loins, loss of appetite, pain in left breast, tightness across the chest, cough and giddiness. If still allowed to go on, "green sickness" will be fully developed—the headache becomes severe, with loss of memory, diminishing sensibility, SICK STOMACH, dyspepsia no relish for food, loss of flesh, increased fluttering of the heart SWELLING OF THE FEET, legs and body and occasional spitting of blood. The slightest effort causes HURRIED BREATHING, almost SUFFOCATION, The skin is flabby and a "doughy feel." This is a sad picture, but it is the condition of thousands of women between the ages of 15 and 45, who are brought to the verge of the grave by ignorance or neglect to take the proper remedy. To all who are afflicted with any of the symptoms above mentioned, in connection with an irregularity of the "monthly sickness," we earnestly say TAKE DR. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR. A few ounces taken, you will at once experience its benefits, and with a little patience you will be fully restored to health.

This remedy has been extensively used for upwards of twenty years by many of the most experienced and successful Physicians of Georgia.

We repeat, that DR. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR is prepared for WOMEN and to be used by Women only.

A trial is all we ask.

ATLANTA, Ga., December 29th, 1868.

DR. J. BRADFIELD—Dear Sir: I take pleasure in stating that some time previous to the late war, I used, with the utmost success, on a servant girl, your FEMALE REGULATOR, prepared then at Bradfield's Drug Store, West Point, Ga. She had been suffering severely from suppressed menstruation, and this Medicine soon restored her to health. She is, to-day, living in Atlanta, sound and well

I will state, further, that I know of its being used, with equal success, on a servant girl of my brother-in law, Professor Rutherford, of Athens, Ga. This woman had, I think, been diseased for six years. She was a house servant, and seemed cured, up to the time of "freedom," I do not hesitate to indorse your preparation for the purposes for which you recommend it.

Yours truly, JNO. C. WHITNER.

STATE OF GEORGIA, TROUP COUNTY.

This is to certify that I have examined the recipe of Dr. Joseph Bradfield, of this county, and, as a medical man, pronounce it to be a combination of Medicines of great merit in the treatment of all the diseases of females for which he recommends it. WM. P. BEASLEY, M. D.

This December 21st, 1868.

DR. J. BRADFIELD—Dear Sir: I have much pleasure in saying I have witnessed the most decided and happy effects of your Female Regulator in this neighborhood. WM. H. FINCHEN.

ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS,

Dysentery Cordial, Female Tonic,

PURIFYING PILLS.

THE excellent Remedies of O. S. Prophitt, M. D., need no recommendation—their well known power in removing the diseases peculiar to our Southern climate having already established for them an enviable reputation in Georgia and the adjoining States. As the majority of persons living in the South are predisposed to disease of the Liver, it is granted by all intelligent physicians that most of the pains and aches of our people are due to organic or functional derangement of that important organ. Prophitt's Liver Medicine and Anti-Billous Pills strike directly at the root of the evil. They cure the Liver which, in nine cases out of ten, is at the bottom of the Coughs, Dyspepsia, Colic, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Constipation, Menstrual Obstructions, etc., so common among our people. Earache, Toothache, Acute Rheumatism, Neuralgia and and bodily pains of every kind flee before

Sut Lovengood at a Candy Pulling.

I had a heep of truble las Chrismas, and Ile tell you how it happened. Deken Jones's gals give a candy pullin. and I got a stool, as they say in North Karlina, an so over I goes. Sister Poll and me went together, and when we got to mam Jonses the house was chuck full. Dog my cats ef thar was room to turn round. Thar was Suze Harkins, shese as big as a skinned hoss, and six other Harkinses, and all the Scrogginses, and Williamses, and Simmonses, and Pedigrews, and the school master and his gal, besides the old Deken and the Dekeness, and enough little Dekenses to set up a half a dozen young folks in the famili bizness.

Well, bimbey the pot begun to bile, and then the fun begun. We all got our plates reddy, and put flour on our hands to keep the candy from stickin, an then we pitched intu pullin. Wozent it fun? I never saw laffin and cuttin up. in all my born daze. I made a canda bird for Em Simmons. Her an me expecks to trot in dubble harness one of these daze. She made a candy goos for me. Then we got to throwin candy balls intu one anothers hair, and a runnin from one side of the house to tother, and out intu the kitchen, till everything on the place was all over gommed with candy. I sot on a pine bench, and Em Simmons sot close to me. Suse Harkins, confonnd her pickter, throwd a candy ball sock intu one of mi ize. I made a bulge to run arter her, and heerd sumtin rip. My stars alive! Wozent I pickled? I looked around, and thar was the gabel end of my bran new britches a stickin to the pine bench. I backed up again to the wall, sorter crawfish like and grinned.

"Sut," ses sister Poll, "what's the matter?"

"Shet up!" says I.

"Let her grease!" says I, and I sot down on a washbord, that was a lying across a tub feelin worse than an old maid at a weddin. Purty soon, I felt sumthin hurt. and purty soon it hurt agin. Ice—whiz! I jumpt ten feet hi, kicked over the tub, out flu old Joneses Chrismus turky, and you ought to a seed me git. I cut for tall timber now jumpt staked and ridered fences and smashed down bresh like a runaway herikan till I got home, and went to bed and stade there two daze.

If old dekin Joneses barn burns down next winter, and Ime arrested for it, and enyboddy peers as a witness agin me, ile bust his doggoned hed! Them's my sentiments.

SUT LOVENGOOD.

THE RUINS OF A SWELL.—A writer in the Gentleman's Magazine gives a sketch of the late Prime Minister which may find a place among the curiosities of polites and literature.

"In his youth Mr. Disraeli had the reputation of being one of the handsomest men about town. He and Bulwer Lytton and D'Orsay were the heroes of Mrs. Blessington's soirees. Those who knew him then tell you of a youth of lithe and limber figure, of handsome features, of dark flashing eyes, and ambrosial curls; of a youth, who, like his own Vivan Grey, was the envy of men and the admiration of woman, and who, too, like Vivan Grey, was distinguished for his wit and eloquence and his wild ambition, not less than his personal traits. But time and time's attendants. thought and passion, have wrought their havoc. Those ambosial curls are nearly all gone. That rich olive complexion has lost its bloom. The eye alone retains its lustre, and that is still as deep, glowing, and brilliant as it was 30 years ago. In that you may still find the Adonis of Gore house. But the glittering son of Aurora is now on the shady side of 60, and is at the highest point of his daring ambition; and the long and often bitter struggles of those thirty years have left their mark upon him. There is a haggard expression about Mr. Disraeli's features which say even more than his words: 'I have come to this assembly like one who comes from the heat of combat, to repair to the pure flow of some pellucid stream to slake the thirst of battle.' The proud disdainful smile which plays upon his lips speaks with mute eloquence of the House of Commons. You may trace in that, Vivian Grey's motto—a smile for a friend, and a sneer for the world; and, though I believe Mr. Disraeli is in private one of the most genial and kind-hearted of men, the most marked and distinguishing expression of his face is an expression of pride and of deep and bitter scorn. Yet no one ought to be surprised at either of these expressions who reflects on Mr. Disraeli's origin, his pride of race, his daring ambition, and the long and bitter personal contests he has gone through in the House of Commons to attain the high position which he holds to-day by favor and command of his sovereign."

Earth Closets for Cows and Horses.

Much interest is now being taken in the question of the introduction of the earth closet; and it has occurred to us, (a limited experience on the subject confirming our idea.) that the application of the same principle to the cow stable, the horse stable, and, indeed, to every place where live stock is kept, is perfectly feasible, and will be attended with the best results. Much is said in favor of the use of swamp muck in and under stables; and, indeed, too much cannot be said in its praise. But for the consolation of those to whom muck is inaccessible, we are glad to be able to say, that, although common surface soil contains within itself probably less actual fertilizing material, yet it is even a better absorbent of the escaping gases of the manure heap, and of its soluble fertilizing ingredients. A few cart loads of good, fertile soil, taken up during the dry season in July or August. screened through a coal screen, or sifted with an ash-sifter, and put away under a shed where it will not get wet, will af[illegible] a better material than muck, ch[illegible]hord or plaster, to be sprin[illegible] [illegible]arcoal-dust thrown upon [illegible] [illegible]ated in stables [illegible] and in a cel[illegible] [illegible] the accumulated droppings [illegible]ellar or manure shed. While, probably the value of this addition to the compost heap, in view of its absorbent qualities, will be quite as great as that of muck, the effect upon the atmosphere of the stable will be even better. In the hog-pen, the use of dry earth will accomplish equally beneficial results: and even the ground under the hen-roost, or the floor of the hen-house, supplied with this material in sufficient quantity to cover and absord the droppings. the mass being forked over once or twice a week, will be productive of the most desirable effect. It will amply repay, in the increased value of the manure, the labor that it requires; while the purity of the air of the poultry-house, and the beneficial influence of this on the health of the fowls, will be greater than could be attained in any other way.—American Agriculturalist.

☞ Half way up Lookout Mountain, the place where memory is stirred by a thousand thrilling associations, and where the brave boys of both armies met and fought hand to hand, where the blood of both friend and foe was mingled together and ran down the mountain side in rivulets, is a smooth-faced rock, upon which a poor, wounded soldier inscribed the following:

"S. T.—1860—X.—Early in the battle I was wounded, and carried to this spot by two clever 'Yanks.' They bade me farewell, and as they supposed, to die, for I was so weak from loss of blood that I could but faintly thank them for their kindness. They left in my canteen a part bottle of PLANTATION BITTERS, to which I owe my life, for it strengthened me, and kept life within me until help came and my wound was dressed. God bless them for their kindness, and for the Plantation Bitters."
